

FOREWORD by D. J. Adley

After Bill Lofts had completed his research on the Greyfriars stories in the Penny Popular last year and had passed the data on to me for compiling and typing, Bill remarked "Thank goodness that is finished," and further remarked that he would not like to undergo a similar task on the St. Jim's reprints.

Towards the end of last year, however, Bill was asked by the London O.B.B.C. if he could compile the St. Jim's stories in the Penny Popular for a catalogue that they were preparing, and ever ready to accept a challenge Bill readily agreed.

As the London Club's catalogue was primarily a Gem list giving S.O.L. and other reprint information, it was felt that as such a tremendous amount of work was involved in acquiring this information, this completed data should be published in the C.D. Annual as well as in the London Club's list and thus benefit all collectors.

When one considers that Bill never reads the Gem and is obviously at a disadvantage in lacking the intimate knowledge of the stories, one cannot help but marvel at the enormous painstaking research - a heart-breaking job at times - in tracing stories which have very little resemblance to the form in which they previously appeared in the Gem.

In the first series of the Popular the St. Jim's stories were easy to trace as they were at least published in some reasonable sequence, but after No. 17 of the second series things were confused by the introduction of newly written substitute yarns which were mainly written by John Nix Pentelow. When the reprints started again one can see the enormous difficulties that Bill had to encounter in tracing the originals; such as jumping from Gem 281 to 582, reverting to 310, and then on to Gem 613!

One other curious thing the chief sub-editor of the Popular did was to reprint certain stories twice, such as second series numbers 2 and 306, when other brilliant stories were not reprinted at all!

The reader will note that some stories are listed as "Story Untraceable"; these are probably original tales by a substitute writer. This is because:-

- (a) A close perusal of Gems between 1907 and 1926, from which the reprints were taken has failed to give a clue to the origin of certain stories.

- (b) There is the possibility of the original Gems of the stories in question being missing from the British Museum's bound volumes, a not uncommon factor.
- (c) Despite the fact that other St. Jim's Popular stories of this period have been proved reprint yarns, these untraceable yarns could possibly have been written specially for the Popular by substitute writers.

As there is always the possibility that some C.D. reader may remember these yarns and be able to throw some light on the origins, we are giving a short synopsis of each of the untraceable stories in the Popular and request that if anyone can help in this matter they contact Bill Lofts or myself - which would gratify us very much.

267. This story features Mr. Railton whose sister is very ill and needs very costly medical attention. The boys get together and collect the £60 required for the operation, a rather sentimental yarn.
294. Concerns a wrecked study and how Tom Merry's cricket bat is ruined. At the start of the story it mentions how Tom Merry is very sunburnt after his recent adventures at sea. This refers to the preceding Popular which has been traced. It is not mentioned, however, in the Gem following the one traced.
297. Telling of a raid by Figgins & Co. on the School House and how some of Glyn's powder turns to gas and the boys act oddly in the dormitory.
316. Bernard Glyn's motor-gliding competition, featuring Gilson who is an American. Glyn is badly hurt at the end of the story.
495. Story centred at Lord Eastwood's home and how some car thieves are caught.
568. Cutts and Co. try to swindle a new boy named Scanlon by card sharpening.
